Since the Governor of Porto Rico has introduced the game of golf, there is no reason why the Porto Ricans should not forget their troubles and fall in love with the flag.

A Galveston inventor has patented a hemp decortating machine which has proved after trial a success. Inventors have been long at work on such a machine, the success of which will make jute, hemp and flax growing profitable in the South.

The leading negroes of New Orleans have organized a non-partisan, non-sectarian league the object of which is to promote the material and social betterment of the race, by giving them the right kind of talk and instruction. That is level-headed.

Bishop Turner, colored, of Georgia, says he will not stump for Bryan, as reported, but will vote for him, one of the reasons being that while he doesn't know what Bryan might do for the negro, he knows that McKinley has never done anything but appoint a few of them to office.

President McKinley's protege, the Sultan of Sulu, has decamped and taken with him $20,000 that he got hold of some way; but he left his harem behind. That's what's bothering Major Sweet, the American commander at Jolo, as the harem expects him to take charge of it as the next in authority since the other fellow lit out.

Chin Tan Sun, the richest Chinaman in this country, lives in California, where he employs hundreds of white men, runs factories, owns ranches and lots of real estate in the cities. He came to San Francisco a poor boy, started to work as a cook, but hustled and married a white woman to whom he is devoted and attributes his good fortune.

The mayor of Wilkesbarre, Pa., got out of an embarrassing predicament the other day in a Solomonic way. Two women came before him on account of some disagreement. They both insisted on talking at the same time, and would talk in spite of his efforts to keep one quiet while the other talked. In despair he ordered both locked up in a room, by themselves, until their desire to talk subsided. At at the end of three hours they had talked themselves out and came out silent, and good friends.

RELIEF MEASURES.

Wilmington's Sympathy for the Galveston Storm Stricken Sufferers.

CONTRIBUTIONS ARE LIBERAL

St. Paul's Lutheran Church Makes Ready Response—The City's Appropriation of $500—Ladies Inaugurate a Movement to Raise Funds.

The feeling of sympathy on the part of Wilmington people for the Galveston storm sufferers becomes more and more intense as the news of the terrible conditions in and around that ill-fated city becomes more appalling from the columns of the newspapers each day. It is safe to predict that within less than a week the amount contributed publicly and privately will go beyond the $5,000 mark, about half that amount having already been subscribed.

A joint meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of giving some substantial expression of sympathy for the people of the stricken city. President Jacobi, of the Chamber of Commerce, briefly stated the object of the meeting, and without debate it was unanimously decided, on motion of Capt. T. D. Meares, and seconds by Mr. W. E. Worth and Mr. J. A. Taylor, that it was the sense of the meeting that the County Commissioners at the earliest possible moment appropriate out of the public fund a like amount with the Board of Aldermen, viz. $500, and that same be transmitted at once through the proper channels to the stricken people. It was also decided as the sense of the meeting, upon the suggestion of Mr. W. E. Springer, that this action need not interfere with personal subscriptions. The churches of the city were likewise requested to interest themselves in the movement and receive a special collection for the fund. The banks and newspapers of the city were also asked to receive and forward subscriptions and when it is consistent with the views of the donors to make the fund subject to the orders of the president of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting was very harmonious and the action will be approved by the taxpayers of the county without a dissenting voice.

President Jacobi in this connection stated that he had received a letter enclosing check of $100 for the fund from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son; also, $5 from Iredell Meares, Esq. Liberal contributions from members and friends of St. Paul's Lutheran Church amounting to $252, including a gift of $100 from Mr. Andrew Smith, are referred to in another column.

Capt. C. H. White, Assistant City Clerk and Treasurer, with the approval of the Board of Audit and Finance, yesterday telegraphed the $500 appropriation made by the city to the storm sufferers and mailed the following letter to the Mayor of Galveston:

"DEAR SIR—The Board of Aldermen of this city, met yesterday in special session and appropriated $500 to the relief fund of your city. I am directed to remit that amount with an expression of profound sympathy from the Board, which speaks as well for our city generally, for the people of Galveston in their present great misfortune."

The Ladies Inaugurate a Movement.

A large and enthusiastic gathering of ladies at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning decided to give a concert and festival next Tuesday night for the benefit of the fund. A number of the best singers in the city have offered their services for the entertainment, and it is assured that an interesting programme will be arranged.

Several contributions were announced and those present were thoroughly enthused over the prospect of a successful event for such a charitable cause. Committees were appointed to further arrange for the benefit, and in order to give it as wide scope as possible it was decided to hold another meeting this afternoon at 5.30 o'clock, to which every lady in the city of Wilmington is most cordially invited. The STAR is urged to emphasize to them the importance of being present promptly at the hour named.

Another commendable movement on foot by the ladies will appear from the call issued in another column to meet at the residence of Mrs. Roger Moore this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

Offer by Southern Express Company.

Capt. J. R. Williams, agent of the Southern Express Company in this city, requests the STAR to announce that his company will receive and forward free over its lines to point of transfer with connecting companies, contributions of money and clothing for the benefit of the Texas sufferers. Such shipments must be addressed to properly constituted relief committees at Galveston or other cities in the State of Texas.

Kind Words From Raleigh.

The Raleigh Post of yesterday, in speaking of the action of the Aldermen Wednesday, editorially, says: "Wilmington's response to the cry of distress from Texas is as generous as it is prompt, a typical illustration of her people under all circumstances of such character."

— Mrs. J. W. Rourk, of Savannah, Ga., passed through the city yesterday, returning home from Shallotte, N. C., where she has been visiting relatives and friends. While in the city she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rourk.

TO IMPROVE NIXON STREET.

Merchants' Association Directors Passed Resolutions Recommending This Work Necessary.

The board of directors of the Merchants' Association, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, decided to urge upon the early improvement of Nixon street, between Fifth and Ninth, which is now in very bad condition for vehicles by reason of the heavy sand along this portion, which connects with the Castle Haynes road, which has recently been macadamized and which affords the only entrance into the city by truckers and other farmers in Cape Fear township, who complain that the Castle Haynes road improvement is worthless for the reason that they have to burden their vehicles only to an extent which will allow their stock to pull over the short sand stretch inside the city limits.

An expression of the views of the merchants along this line is found in the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in the rooms of the Association in the Seaboard Air Line building:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the improvement of Nixon street from Fifth to Ninth street is a crying demand, and that the Board of Aldermen be and are hereby requested to improve this street at the earliest possible moment.

In this connection it may be noted that the Streets and Wharves Committee of the Board of Aldermen is already turning its attention to this improvement. At a recent meeting of the Aldermen, Alderman Taylor, acting chairman of the committee, reported that the work would likely be under way very soon by the city and county jointly, as he believed the County Commissioners would readily agree to an equitable proposition looking to the joint improvement.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon Col. W. A. Johnson, the president, was in the chair and those present were Messrs. M. W. Jacobi, W. E. Worth, Wm. Niestlie and R. W. Hicks.

DEMOCRATS OF ONSLOW

Held Largely Attended Ratification Meeting at Jacksonville Wednesday. Thomas and Cook Spoke.

The Second Regiment Band returned yesterday on the Newbern train from Jacksonville, Onslow county, where it contributed largely to the success of the big Democratic ratification meeting held there Wednesday in celebration of the sweeping Democratic victory of August 2nd, the present year.

The meeting was attended with a degree of success fully up to the expectations of the unterrified Democracy of Onslow, and nearly two thousand people were present, many of whom had not forgotten their red shirts worn so significantly a few weeks since.

In the morning Prof. D. B. Sampson, principal of the Belgrade High School, delivered an address along educational lines, which was listened to attentively and enjoyed by the large number present, which included many ladies and children.

There was a horseback procession later in the day and at noon a big basket picnic was spread. After dinner Hon. C. R. Thomas, Congressman from the Third district, made a speech treating in a comprehensive manner the issues of the national campaign. Hon. H. L. Cook, of Fayetteville, Democratic Elector from the Third district, also spoke and made a splendid impression upon his hearers.

Members of the band speak in the most appreciative terms of the hospitality extended them by the good people of that county and those who were present say that though the band carried only twelve instruments, it never furnished better music. Mr. W. L. Harvey, an experienced musician, who is now with the Ludden & Bates Music House here, accompanied the band and played B flat cornet. President Monroe also accompanied it.

Lieut. Smith at Galveston.

The many friends in Wilmington of Lieut. F. W. Smith, who was so popularly known among the revenue cutter Algonquin's clever officers; but who was recently transferred to the cutter Galveston, at Galveston, Texas, feel very apprehensive as to his fate. The vessel was anchored in the harbor when the storm began and she has not been heard of since. It is supposed that she ran out to sea, but as several days have elapsed since the storm abated its fury and as the Galveston has not put in her appearance, the department is apprehensive as to her safety.

Funeral of Mr. Skipper.

The funeral service of the late Ira Skipper was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning from St. Andrews' Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. A. D. McClure, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell, D. D. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. The remains were laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery. The following acted as pall bearers: Messrs. J. B. Hand, J. A. Barnes, J. H. Thomas, T. S. Toler, N. M. McEachern and S. W. Holden.

Mr. Chadbourn Slightly Better.

A telegram yesterday from Mr. Chas. C. Chadbourn at Chadbourn stated that his brother Mr. Joseph C. Chadbourn, who was stricken with paralysis Wednesday, was slightly better but was still unconscious up to that time.

KINSAULS IS REPRIEVED.

Has Been Given Two More Weeks to Live. Intercession of a Methodist Minister in His Behalf.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., September 13.—Governor Russell has reprieved Archie Kinsauls, the Sampson county murderer who was to have been executed to morrow, until Friday, September 28th. This action was taken because of Kinsauls' condition resulting from attempted suicide last Friday, when he was to have been hanged. His neck is still in bad condition, and he is said to be trying to starve himself to death to prevent disgrace and the horror of perishing on the gallows. Governor Russell has been flooded with petitions in this case and last evening Rev. H. E. Tripp, the Methodist minister from Clinton, was here beseeching for further reprieve for the condemned man.

Kinsauls' wife is exerting every effort in behalf of the life of her husband. She has personally worked up a petition for commutance in Wilmington.

Rev. Mr. Tripp brought with him to Raleigh a letter from Dr. A. M. Lee, Kinsauls' physician, stating that the condemned man is now in a very feeble condition. His throat is very sore and it will be several days before the wound will heal. He further stated that he would ask, if not inconsistent with the Governor's own idea, that the execution be stayed long enough for the wound to heal.

Governor Russell also to day postponed the execution of Drayton Medlin, a white man, until Friday, October 19th. Medlin was tried in Dallas, Gaston county, for the murder of Superintendent Brown, of a cotton mill in which Medlin worked. He was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged at Dallas. His execution has been postponed because of urgent petitions to the Governor to give time to examine properly prayers for commutance of Medlin's sentence to life imprisonment.

To-morrow Chancey Davis, a negro, will be hanged at Tarboro for burning Battle's residence at that place. Governor Russell has declined to intervene and the negro will pay the penalty for his crime of arson on the scaffold.

THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

Second Ward Organized for the Fray. Other Clubs Will Follow Suit To-night.

The Second Ward White Supremacy Club, President W. E. Springer in the chair and Secretary R. C. Sloan at his post, set the pace for her sister wards last night in reorganizing for the national campaign. There was a splendid attendance and enthusiasm marked the proceedings throughout. The organization decided to take upon itself the name of "Bryan and Stevenson Democratic Club of the Second Ward" and all the old officers were elected for this the third campaign, the club having remained intact since the memorable campaign of 1898. The constitution and by-laws governing the club in the State campaign were adopted. It was decided to hold weekly meetings on Thursday nights in the rooms of the Merchants' Association.

The other clubs of the city are called to meet to-night at the several places designated in yesterday's STAR at the authorization of Chairman Johnson and it is sincerely hoped that honest Democrats seeking the triumph of Democratic principles will be present in large numbers.

There are peculiar reasons why Wilmington Democrats should show no laxity of effort in politics and to night's meetings should be marked by enthusiasm and numbers.

CAROLINA CLUB REGATTA

Will Be Sailed This Morning Over the Banks' Channel Course.

The Carolina Yacht Club regatta which was postponed from last Saturday, will be sailed this morning over the club course, beginning at 11 o'oclock. The "Little Alice," Capt. S. P. Cowan, and the "Question," Capt. Aubrey Parsley, will be the only entries, and as these are considered to be the fastest sailing yachts in the club, the result of this morning's race will be looked forward to with keen interest by the many admirers of the two boats and their crews.

The race will be the first of a series of three in which the "Lord Cup" will be contested for. The winning yacht in to-day's regatta will be presented with the "champion flag."

Dr. C. M. Payne Dead.

Mr. Charles Payne, of Washington, N. C., who has been here on a visit to his cousin, Mr. H. G. Fennell, was called home last night by a telegram conveying the very sad news of the death of his father, Rev. C. M. Payne' D. D. Dr. Payne's death was very sudden, as his son was reading a posta card from him saying that he was well when the telegram was delivered. Dr. Payne was pastor of St. Andrew's Church for ten years, from 1874 to 1884, and was much beloved by his congregation and others who knew him. After he left Wilmington he went to Concord, and from there he moved to Washington, where he was pastor of the Presbyterian church at the time of his death.

— Mr. Edmund R. Foster has returned from Charlotte, where he spent a pleasant vacation with relatives.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON

The Loss Estimated at Over One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars.

IT BROKE OUT ABOUT 1 P. M.

Raged Until 5 O'clock—List of Sufferers. Fire Departments at Greenville and Rocky Mount Wired for Help. Many Persons Prostrated.

[Special Star Telegram.]

WASHINGTON, N. C., Sept. 13.—Washington is in ashes. From Water street, beginning at the oyster factory up the street a distance of two hundred yards, or near to the Crystal Ice Company's factory, and from the corner of Water street up Market street to Main street, our town lies in ruins; never surpassed in our town's history since the Civil War, and the property loss far exceeds that of the war, when our town was burned by the Yankees, the loss being approximated at one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and upon a careful examination it is presumed the loss will far exceed these figures.

The fire originated in Brabble's restaurant about one o'clock, caused from a defective stove flue, and in a few minutes the building was a total loss and the fire had spread to all adjacent buildings.

Estimates of Losses.

The following is an approximate estimate of the loss at this time, 9 p. m.: O. B. Wynne, bar, $1,000; W. Farrow's bar, $1,000; J. S. Farren & Co., oyster canning factory, $30,000; W. A. Bridges' barber shop, $100; W. T. Farrow, tenement house, $2,000; E. S. Hoyt, building, $800; L. E. Kidd, grocery, $1,700; Bonitz's grocery, $500; M. F. Watson, restaurant, $50; J. W. Mayo's fish house, $800; J. M. Gaskill, fish house, $1,200; Fulford fish house, $500; John Harris, sail maker, $700; E. K. Willis, wholesale grocer, building and stock, $10,000; Washington market house, $6,000; Washington Light Infantry armory, damaged $300; E. Peterson, wholesale grocer, building, $5,000, stock, $25,000; Dr. Willis, wholesale grocer, $6,000; W. B. Rodman, building, $4,000; C. H. Sterling, fish house; $1,000; A. H. Latham, grocer, $1,500; H. Jewell, $1,200 on stock; John Chesnut, bar, $1,000; W. B. Rodman, law office and library, $3,000; Dr. J. C. Rodman, building, library and instruments, $3,500; McBergeon, grocer, $3,000; Miss M. M. B. Rodman, damage to dwelling, $500; Mrs. Christine Jarvis, residence and furniture, $3,000; Spencer Bros., building and stock, $30,000; C. M. Little, building and stock, $3,500; W. B. Windley, building, $500; W. Bailey, stock, $500; Charles Warren, colored, $300; H. W. Hollowell, building and stock, $1,500; E. Peterson & Co., building and stock, $300; T. M. Willard, stock, $250; T. F. Brown, building occupied by colored tenants, $500; M. J. Wright, buildings, $2,500; M. J. Wright, stock, $3,000; C. F. Smith, stock, $2,800; several restaurants on Water street, owned by Wright, Brabble, Stilley and Swindell, valued about $200.

These are approximate estimates; some of our most conservative men saying that the loss will exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

The Telephone exchange is damaged to a very considerable extent; Manager Bell says it is impossible to estimate their losses. The Fulford Hardware Company, Brown Drug Company and Thomas' Bargain House were considerably damaged by water.

Greenville Sent Assistance.

All citizens of the town, both white and colored, did valiant service. The fire raged from one fifteen to five o'clock. Many were prostrated by the excessive heat, we having had no rain for several weeks.

Mayor Studdart wired the fire departments of Greenville and Rocky Mount for assistance, as the whole town was at one time in danger. The Greenville fire company is now on the scene, and the fire is under control. The promptness of our sister towns in responding to the call of the mayor for assistance will ever be remembered.

PENITENTIARY A BURDEN.

Again Badly in Need of Funds—Treasurer Worth Refuses Assistance—Aid for Galveston Sufferers.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., September 13.—At a meeting of citizens late this afternoon nearly three hundred dollars was raised for the Galveston sufferers and a committee was appointed to solicit contributions to-morrow.

The penitentiary, which has so long been a burden on the taxpayers of the State, is again badly in need of funds. This morning the management tried to get from the State Treasurer's office $35,000, but Treasurer Worth declined to let them have it. He says the penitentiary drew $55,400 from the State Treasury last year, which the Legislature provided for as a loan, but that none of it has ever been paid back, and instead demand has been made for the $50,000 appropriated for this year.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed by W. E. Jones, a dry goods merchant here. His liabilities are $22,000, and his assets about $6,000. Another bankruptcy petition filed today was by D. D. Blue, of Aberdeen. His liabilities are only $975.

DEATH OF MISS BURR.

[Communicated.]

Miss E. Kate Burr, daughter of the late Talcot Burr, Sr., and Mrs. Emily Burr, and sister of the late Col. James G. Burr, passed away at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, September 12th, on Wrightsville Sound, after a life of great usefulness, carrying out her mission in this world with the highest and noblest effort.

Miss Burr was for many years a prominent teacher in the Wilmington schools, being one of the principals of the well known school of Misses Burr and James, and having taught in this city for more than forty years. He health having failed about eight years ago, she was unable to carry on the active work to which she had devoted her whole life, but even throughout her affliction she assisted in no small way toward the development and elevation of the young intellect, it having become necessary for her to give up teaching entirely on account of the failure of her eyesight some two years ago. She was for a long while a faithful member of St. James' Episcopal Church, being prominent in both Sunday school work, ministering to the sick and needy, fulfilling her duty to God and standing as a beautiful example of a pure, Christian life. Being of such a lovable disposition and possessed of remarkable intellectual ability, it was a privilege as well as pleasure to be about her. For a long time she was secretary of the Ladies' Memorial Association of this city, having been identified with that organization from its infancy.

Miss Burr was the last of a generation of four children, and while her relatives were few, yet she was not without friends, as was daily demonstrated by the attention and devotion shown by many of her old pupils and friends, who will never cease to love and cherish her memory.

The funeral services will be held from St. James' Episcopal Church this morning at 9.30 o'clock.

River and Harbor Notes.

The British steamer Strathord, light for Norfolk, passed out at Southport at 3:45 P. M. yesterday.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 14.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President:
WILLIAM J. BRYAN, of Nebraska.

For Vice-President:
ADLAI E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

For Congress, Sixth District:
JOHN D. BELLAMY, of New Hanover.

AN UNSCRUPULOUS STUMPER.

Mr. McKinley declines to go around making speeches soliciting votes, because it is, in his opinion, incompatible with the dignity of the high office for which he is running, but his idea of dignity did not prevent him from running a front porch campaign when he ran last time and would not have prevented him this time if the unexpected events in China had not interfered with that part of Mark Hanna's programme. It doesn't comport with Presidential aspirations for the candidate to take an active part part in a campaign, but why not embrace the candidate for the vice-presidency which is an office which should rank with that of President in dignity and should be filled by an equally dignified personage, for the Vice-President of today may become the President of to-morrow, but neither Mr. McKinley, Mark Hanna nor Candidate Roosevelt seems to think that the dignity reaches him, if they did he would not be cavorting around the country performing as he does. For the sake of decency, if not of dignity, he would get upon a higher plane than the ordinary bushwhacking rousicator, who has neither fame to maintain nor reputation to lose.

For a first-class, thoroughly unscrupulous, pyrotechnic performer, Teddy takes the cake, for he has no more conscience or regard for the proprieties in his utterances than a born pirate.

His speeches are a combination of rant, bluster, indirect self-glorification, assumption, misrepresentation and hypocrisy, supplemented with sectional bias that would revive the memories and animosities of a generation ago. And yet he is running for a responsible office that ought to be filled by a presumbly respectable, honest man, and generally is. The man who aspires to it should be neither a clown nor a mountebank, nor a slanderer. As a clown he performs in the role of "Rough Rider," as a mountebank he lays claim to heroism that belongs to others, as a slanderer he has aspersed the motives and character of more than one-half of the voters of this country.

And with all this he essays the role of prophet and makes an ass of himself, in assuming that the American people are the imbeciles he takes them for. In his speeches he predicts that if Bryan is elected we will have the greatest money panic ever seen in this country; that the factories will be closed, workmen starve, and that the farmers will not get enough for their crops to let them see what money looks like. He predicts other disasters, but these are a sample.

Let us examine this a little on the assumption that there may be some people in this country credulous enough to believe it, and that this oratorical bird of ill omen really believes what he says. If we are to have the greatest money panic we have ever seen in the event of Bryan's election, (which means Teddy's defeat) who will make it? Will it be the people who earn or borrow money or the money changers who lend it? Will it be the men who support Bryan or the men who oppose him? Certainly not the latter, for they fear nothing and why should the former? The panic predictors who speak for the money lords say there will be lack of confidence and this will precipitate a panic. The holders of gold, the bankers, will refuse to let it go out, and that will knock the bottom of business and the panic will come. Who will be responsible for it if it does; they or the people? They can make it if they want to, just as they did in 1873 to control the money legislation, and they might possibly do it again if they thought they could make anything by it. But the people are not going to do it for they don't make panics.

If the shops close who will close them? The men who earn their daily bread in them or the men who own them? The workmen do not close factories or shops and shop owners will not close them unless the money lenders lock their vaults and refuse them the money accommodations they need to keep the shops and factories running. They might do that again as they have done it before, and starve workmen and ruin farmers, but if they did it would be the result of a conspiracy the responsibility for which would rest upon them, and the people would know where to put it.

But this is simply a scare, a scare that eclipses the free silver scare that the Republican spell-binders started out with, but it is to be hoped for the credit of the American people that there are few who will be influenced by it. It is about on a par with the fake that the Republican stumpers in the South played for so many years after the war, and still play occasionally, when talking to the negroes, whom they kept in line by telling them that if the Democratic party came into power they would be reduced to slavery again. The negroes got so used to that that it didn't scare them much and the stumpers found it useless to continue to play it and generally dropped it. The panic and other scare tricks have been played so often by the Republican stumpers that the people should have become accustomed to them by this time, and laugh at an "intellectual Comanche" like Roosevelt when he tries that game.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

The strike of the workmen in the anthracite coal mines in Pennsylvania, which has been pending for some time, was inaugurated Wednesday. It is said it will involve 145,000 workmen. Since the beginning of the misunderstanding between the miners and the mine operators, the miners have been asking for arbitration to adjust their differences, but this, according to the published reports, was refused, the operators declining to recognize the Miners' Union, or listen to any demands from it. It is said that they were not averse to the threatened strike, as this would reduce the supply of coal in sight and run up prices to more than compensate them for any losses they might incur from it.

The officers of the Miners' Union say they have been untiring in their efforts to bring about a harmonious and peaceful settlement of the differences, but have been curtly rebuffed by the mine owners. Some of the causes of the trouble are thus stated in a communication, before the strike was ordered, to the Philadelphia Times, by John Fahey, President of District Number 9:

"The causes that have led the miners to make their present demands have been stated generally, but not in detail. Briefly, they are the manner in which the men are overcharged for the necessaries of life at the company stores, for their tools and powder, and the exorbitant rent they are compelled to pay for company houses; the fact that at the present time the ton of coal gotten out by a miner weighs about 3,500 pounds, and even with this great surplus, the fact that he is docked for slate and dirt; the fact that there is no uniformity of pay, and a score of these things that need not be spoken of here.

"The changes that we ask for are few and all are not so great that they might not be made. In regard to the stores, food costs from fifteen to twenty per cent. more than it should. An ordinary celluloid collar button, the brand that sells for five cents a dozen in a store, is sold by the company for five cents each. From a collar button to a keg of powder includes about everything a miner needs.

"The DuPont powder works manufacture powder and sell it at 90 cents a keg. The companies charge the miners $2.50 for this same powder. In the soft coal mines and in other mines this powder is sold to miners at $1.50 a keg, which give the company a profit of about half a dollar. The anthracite operators demand a profit of $1.50 on every keg. They demand the same amount of profit on all tools. We demand that the price of powder be reduced at least $1.50 a keg. We ask that the other necessities of life be reduced equally. We seek lower rent. We also ask that hereafter the coal mined shall be weighed and that a ton shall be the same number of pounds as that sold by the operators. We ask that the pay be uniform throughout the region. In some mines the workmen get a dollar and a quarter a day for work that men get only a dollar a day for in other mines. This condition creates discontent. We seek to have the same amount paid for the same class of work in all the mines.

"All of these things may seem not of sufficient importance to bring about a great strike, but if they will stop to consider the facts they will soon change their minds. The miner earns on an average of about a dollar a day and the extra cost of his food and other necessities means a lot to him.

"Regarding the strike, I can say that if it is declared at least eighty per cent. of the miners in the anthracite region will go out, and that every mine in the region will be closed until the concessions we ask are made. The strike will be necessary."

These men get from a dollar to a dollar and a quarter a day, out of which they have to support themselves and families, and yet the mine owners think they have no right to protest against or seek relief from this extortion.

The lying radical organs some time ago, when the miners showed a disposition to protect themselves, charged that the strike was instigated by Democratic leaders for party purposes, but if any one was fool enough to believe that, this statement by Mr. Fahey disposes of that fake.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNE FIND.

It is somewhat remarkable the number of Filipino documents our soldiers in the Philippines have found within the past six months or so, beginning with the big haul made by the hustling Funston on top of that sequestered cliff. It took some time to translate these, and then only such portions of them were given to the public as might be utilized by the expansion orators and organs as campaign material.

One of the latest of these finds is an alleged communication from one T. Sandiko, a Filipino insurgent, to other insurgents who were showing a disposition to throw up the sponge and accept terms of peace. This document was found in a "deserted house" by a Missouri soldier, who sent it to St. Louis, kindly translated into English for the benefit of the Republican organs. The sum and substance of this find is that Mr. Sandiko urges the peace hankerers, whose patriotism or motives he does not question, to keep a stiff upper lip and wait till they see whether the racket in the Transvaal and in China may not do the Filipinos some good, and in the event nothing come of these to wait until the election in this country, for if Bryan is elected they will be solid, and if he isn't then he and the rest of them can accept the terms that McKinley offers. In that event he will be among the first to recognize American supremacy.

There are two noticeable points in this thin fake. One where he urges the Filipinos to hold out with the hope of Bryan's election, which supports the assertion of the Republican organs that if it wasn't for their hopes of Bryan's election the Filipinos would before this have accepted the terms of peace offered and the other is the assurance that if McKinley is re-elected they will tumble in at once and recognize the sovereignty of this country, which will be used as an argument to boost the re-election of McKinley as the shortest way to secure peace and establish our supremacy at the same time. This alleged document would be a clever trick if it were not so thin and transparent.

GOOD TARGETS FOR BULLETS.

The people of this country had scarcely recovered from the first shock caused by the news of the awful calamity that fell upon the city of Galveston and other coast cities of Texas, when they were horrified at the ghastly recitals of the looting by vandals and preying by ghouls on the dead bodies of victims of that fearful storm. It is hard to believe that there could be found in a civilized land men so totally depraved that they would in the midst of so much sorrow and desolation rob people of what the cruel winds and waves had left them, and still harder to believe that there are incarnate devils who would mutilate the bodies of the dead to get the ornaments on their persons, cutting off fingers and ears to expedite the removal of rings and other jewels, yet harder to believe that in the midst of this orgie of hellish plunder the fiends actually outrage the persons of unprotected females that come in their way. And yet this is the story the wires bring from that sad scene of woe and desolation.

The only alleviating feature of this gruesome story is the announcement that fifty or more of these vandals and ghouls have been shot, some of them with their pockets bulging out with the swollen fingers and ears of dead women. We have read of brutal atrocities sometimes when an assaulted city fell into the hands of a conquering army, and the frenzy for loot and lust became ungovernable, but never before have we read of such fiendish depravity in the midst of such unparalled affliction, suffering and desolation. Instant death by bullet is entirely too merciful for such monsters.

IRRIGATION METHODS.

Furrow and Flooding Systems—In the Case of Fruit Trees, Etc.

Under the furrow method of irrigation parallel furrows are plowed leading from the ditch through the field between the rows of the crop to be irrigated. A small opening is made in the ditch to let the water into each furrow. A dam of canvas or earth is placed in the ditch just below the lowest furrow into which water is being run at the time, thus holding the water nearly level in that part of the ditch from which it is being drawn. Where the slope of the ground is excessive these furrows must be run diagonally or irregularly in order to reduce their grade and thus prevent erosion of the soil.

In the case of fruit trees it is generally found desirable during very hot weather to prevent the water from coming into actual contact with the trees because of the danger of scalding. Flooding the surface also results in some soils in baking and compacting the earth about the trunks and roots of the trees. To avoid these consequences the furrow system is employed, one or two furrows being plowed along each side of a row of trees at a distance of two or three feet therefrom, and the water is turned from the ditch into these furrows and permitted to traverse them slowly from end to end, thoroughly soaking the ground as it progresses and reaching into the roots without coming in contact with the stems above the surface. The necessary moisture is thus imparted without the wetting and subsequent baking of the surface which might result from flooding. When the trees are sufficiently irrigated, the water is turned out of these furrows and into others, the process being thus continued until the whole area has been served. The furrows are then filled in with a plow, the whole surface worked over with a cultivator and no trace left of either the furrows or the application of water.

This method also requires the attention of an irrigator to see that the proper amount of water is kept in each furrow and it does not break out and flood the surface in places, leaving the furrow beyond the break without water. One man can take care of a considerable number of these furrows at once and under favorable conditions of surface and water supply can accomplish the irrigation of as great an area in a given time as by the flooding system.

This method is also applicable to the irrigation of corn and in fact of any crop whatever which is planted regularly in rows, a single furrow between each two rows being generally used for such crops. When applicable, it is the favorite method both for its convenience and the economy of water thereby effected. But where the ground is very irregular this plan is often inconvenient, for the reason that the furrows paralleling the rows of crop would upon such surfaces be up and down hill and would therefore not carry water. To make this method applicable in such cases it would be necessary that the rows follow approximately the contour of the ground in order that the parallel furrows might carry water throughout their entire length. The irrigation of irregular surfaces, however, is generally conducted under the flooding system except in localities where, as in parts of southern California, the value of the crop frequently warrants the expense of leveling off or terracing irregular surfaces or the application of water through buried pipes, as it is arranged in the water supply of cities.

A modification of the flooding method is the compartment or check system of irrigation practiced in some localities, particularly in portions of Arizona. This consists in dividing the field to be irrigated into squares or compartments by levees or dikes of such height as to cause the water to stand over the entire area of the compartments at one time, the water being admitted to each compartment by means of a gate in the levee. The water is allowed to stand until the ground has become properly moistened, the time depending largely upon the character of the soil. The compartments or squares vary in size according to the slope of the ground, but are not usually more than an acre or so in area.—J. C. Ulrich.

A Good Late Soiling Crop.

A crop of barley and peas is very useful for late soiling and may be seeded from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1 in New Jersey. Its field management is practically identical with that of oats and peas. It is not injured by light frost and can be fed throughout the months of October and November. The yield, however, is very materially influenced by the season. If the weather is cool and moist throughout August and September, nearly as large yields may be obtained as from a crop of oats and peas, but if the fall is dry and hot the crop is liable to be very much reduced, as the pea particularly is seriously injured by such weather conditions.

Kept on the Jump.

"That tall man seems to be the busiest person around the establishment What does he do?"

"It is his duty to see whether the others are working or not."—Chicago Times-Herald.

How Hard Bees Work.

Darwin after close observation found that a bee would often visit as many as 27 flowers in the course of a minute, though with other plants in which the honey was difficult to extract the average would be as low as seven. Striking a mean between these two figures, one may say that an ordinary working bee visits 15 flowers a minute, or 900 an hour. Considering the late hours to which a bee works, it is probably no exaggeration to say that it is busy for eight hours a day, allowing for intervals of rest. This would make it visit 7,200 flowers a day, or 648,000 in a period of six months.

Mr. A. S. Wilson in a recent paper showed the enormous amount of labor gone through by bees in making even a small quantity of honey. He found that approximately 125 heads of red clover yield 15 grains of sugar, or 125,000 heads about two pounds. As each head contains some 60 florets, it follows that 7,500,000 distinct flower tubes must be sucked in order to obtain two pounds of sugar. Now, honey contains, roughly speaking, 75 per cent of sugar; therefore the bees must make, in round numbers, 2,500,000 visits for one pound of honey.

Like a flash of lightning, sudden and startling, disease strikes down many a man. Yet there have been warnings upon warnings, unheeded. Food has lain like a heavy weight in the stomach after eating. There have been belchings, bitter risings in the mouth, nervousness, sleeplessness and growing irritability. Instead of listening to these warnings, recourse has been had to some of the nerve numbing palliatives that cover but never cure disease. Many serious diseases begin in a diseased condition of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. For such diseases there is one medicine which rarely fails to effect a complete cure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures ninety-eight per cent. of all who give it a fair and faithful trial. It is a temperance medicine and contains no alcohol.

"I was afflicted with what the doctors called nervous indigestion," writes Mr. Thos. G. Lever, of Lever, Richland Co., S. C. "I took medicine from my family physician to no avail. In looking over one of Dr. Pierce's Memorandum Books, I found my case described exactly. I wrote to you and made a statement. You sent me a descriptive list of questions, also some hygienic rules. I carried those out as best I could, but thought myself incurable as I suffered so much with pain under my ribs and an empty feeling in my stomach. At night would have cold or hot feet and hands, alternately. I was getting nervous and suffered a great deal mentally, thinking that death would soon claim me. Always expected something unusual to take place; was irritable and impatient, and greatly reduced in flesh. I could scarcely eat any thing that would not produce a bad feeling in my stomach. After some hesitation, owing to my prejudices against patent medicines, I decided to try a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets.' After taking several bottles of each, found I was improving. I continued for six months or more, off and on until I was cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a positive cure for constipation.

ANGORA GOATS.

Great Brush Exterminators and at a Cash Profit.

As there is at present quite a boom in Angora goat farming all over the United States, which will no doubt very much increase the hitherto only limited interest in this kind of live stock, the following from a writer in Country Gentleman is of interest: For brushy pasture land, if at an elevation of from 400 to 500 feet above the sea in the northern part of the Union to a minimum of 1,000 feet in the southern states, one can find no better paying live stock than a good class of Angoras. Their meat is, if properly fattened, as far above that of the ordinary goat as that of the Shorthorn steer is above the old Texas longhorn. It is superior to mutton, because, while being fully as juicy as Southdown meat, it has not that excess of grease so much complained of with all kinds of mutton.

As brush exterminators they haven't their equal, and as bushes and trees draw more from the lower parts of the soil than grasses and weeds goats will improve brushy land much quicker than sheep. Though sheep eat brush, they eat it only in small quantities and more as a seasoning between the grass, while the principal diet of a goat is brush, and they eat the grass, as the sheep do the brush, merely as a condiment. In fact, Angoras are the ideal brush exterminators, and they do it at a cash profit instead of costly outlay, therefore justifying in a measure the circular of a western Angora breeder which was headed, "Picking Gold From the Bushes." There are over 250,000,000 acres of land in the Union which are in reality unfit for anything else but goat pasture and almost the same number of acres more on which, though cattle and sheep do well enough, it takes the goats to make them really profitable. Therefore no farmer who owns land of the above description should be without his flock of Angoras, provided he can get them reasonably—viz, at paying figures.

Dwarf Essex Rape.

The cut shows a single plant of Dwarf Essex rape as grown by a Montana farmer who has had wonderful success with it. He regards it as one of the greatest forage plants known. He cut it three times the first season for feed and the second season secured a fine yield of first class seed.

Rape has been widely cultivated in the United States and Canada. Recent reports indicate that its area of usefulness, however, might be made to extend more largely to the west and northwest. By the use of irrigation excellent crops of rape can be grown in the semiarid regions, and it will withstand quite severe drought if well cultivated. It makes an excellent feed for fattening sheep and is a valuable food for young lambs at weaning time. Rape will endure quite severe cold weather, and sheep can be pastured on it late into the winter until the snow covers it up.

The Minor Services of Irrigation.

Irrigation performs a host of small services. In the nursery the budding season is lengthened because a run of water will cause the bark to slip later in the season. In the English walnut orchard the nuts will be more readily discharged from the husks if an irrigation is given a little in advance of the dropping time. Within certain limits fruiting can be timed by irrigation and succession secured. This is especially true of small fruits. Strawberries can be made almost constant bearers in suitable thermal conditions and can have two main crops in the summer even where the winters are too cold for fruiting. Raspberries follow the same course, and ever bearing blackberries are the ruling variety in the warmer parts of the irrigated region. Of course these performances of plants are dependent upon temperature conditions as well as moisture conditions and upon the length of the growing season which the irrigated semitropical region enjoys, but the fact remains that the forcing summer heat of the more northerly regions could accomplish far more for the grower if he should arrange to have that beneficence always attended by ample moisture.

Agricultural Brevities.

Well worked soil and good drainage are essential for an asparagus bed.

Cutworms and dry weather delayed the planting of the tobacco crop in Connecticut.

The month of July is the proper time to introduce queens and to substitute for worthless ones. Queens are cheaper then than at any other season, remarks Farm Journal.

As a fresh application of bordeaux mixture will adhere to grapes and make the fruit unsightly the last spraying should be made with a solution of six ounces of ammonia carbonate and one ounce of copper carbonate in ten gallons of water.

Chemical fertilizers do not come up to barnyard manure as a source of plant food, the prepared soils with yard manure giving the best results, and yard manure gives the largest yield where irrigated, says the horticulturist of the New Jersey station.

Mean.

He—I am really surprised at Dr. White. After being our family doctor for years and treating me for all sorts of things, and to think of all the money we've paid him too!

She—What has he done?

He—He wouldn't pass me for the life insurance company!—Tit-Bits.

The Female Bowser.

I've got a wife whose views of life
Are based on Mr. Bowser's,
Who has usurped through years of strife
My wearing of the trousers.
She's vexed my soul throughout the years
Pursuing fads unnumbered,
Until with costly souvenirs
Our little home is cumbered.

But when in humble mood I think
Of writing tale or sonnet
She calls it downright waste of ink
And sets her foot upon it.
And as I'm hopelessly outclassed
On points of weight and muscle
I always yield my point at last,
Though not without a tussle.

She says temptations hedge my way
That thrive without restriction,
And seldom suffers me to stray
Beyond her jurisdiction.
She guards our keys with anxious care,
As if she were my jailer,
And yet she's mad when I declare
That marriage is a failure.

Her conduct goes from bad to worse,
The while she waxes fatter;
She talks of suing for divorce;
I wish she'd press the matter,
For certainly I'd no'er oppose
The breaking of this fetter.
She will not seek it, for she knows
That naught would suit me better.
—Chicago Record.

FROM CHILDHOOD DAYS.

Looking Back to the Times When Spankings Were Administered.

"I don't believe in whipping children myself," said the unmarried woman. "I never was whipped but once in my childhood that I can remember."

"And that time?"

"I sat in the middle of the floor with my cat and teased my grandmother for some jam, and she said I couldn't have any. I didn't look at her, but I said slowly to my pussy:

"'Pussy, I wish one of us three was dead. It ain't you, and it ain't me.' My mother came in and heard it, and I got my whipping quick. Every other time when I was naughty and she sent for me I used to run to her and say, 'Kiss me quick, mamma,' and she couldn't whip me after that."

"I used to get an occasional whipping," said the woman next door, "and I never surprised my mother but once. She had been scouring the neighborhood for me when I was playing in the next block, just after dark. Mother was terribly worried. Jimmie Thompson, who lived on our street, had fallen in the water and been drowned, and mother was imagining all sorts of things about me till I guess she convinced herself that I was drowned too. When they found me and brought me home, I got a spanking. And then I walked out of the room, saying with great dignity:

"'I don't believe you're my mother at all.'

"'What's that, child?' she almost screamed in her astonishment. 'Come back in this room.'

"'I don't believe you're my mother at all,' I repeated firmly. I was 9 years old.

"It so disconcerted her that she talked to me for an hour and kissed me and petted me and forgot all about going out to console poor Mrs. Thompson, down the street. When I got into bed, happy, my childish brain had only one thought: Why didn't I think of scaring mother that way before?"—New York Press.

A Reassuring Indorsement.

She handed the check to the paying teller. She was calm and collected, as it it was an everyday matter.

"Madam," said the teller gently, "you have forgotten to indorse it."

"Indorse it?" with a little worried smile.

"Yes. You must write your name on the back here to show that you will repay this bank in case the issuer of this check should fail to answer our call."

"Oh!" she said, accepting the pen.

When the teller looked at the check again, this is what he read:

The —— bank has always paid up what it owes, and you need have no worry. Therefore, I indorse this check. Very truly yours,

Mrs. J. B. Blanks.

The teller fell over into the vault.—Syracuse Herald.

A Conundrum.

"I heard the following conundrum," said R. A. Fallows, "which struck me as distinctly clever: 'What character is there in the Bible who possesses no name, who suffered death in different form from any inflicted before or since that time, a portion of whose shroud is in every household, and the cause of whose death has been made famous by a modern author?'

"Give it up, eh? Well, the answer is, Lot's wife. She possesses no name; no one else met death through being turned into a pillar of salt; salt is in every household, and Edward Bellamy wrote 'Looking Backward;' so there you are."—New York Tribune.

His Only Want.

Billionaire's Daughter—You wrong him, papa. He does not love me for my money. He scoffs at the world's sordid eagerness for wealth.

Papa—What proof have you, child?

Billionaire's Daughter—Why, only last night he told me he didn't care if he was never able to make a penny in his life if he only had me.

Their Stock In Trade.

The Morning Star.
WILMINGTON, N. C.
FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 14.

EIGHTY-FIVE LIVES LOST.

Train on the Gulf & Interstate Railroad Caught in the Great Storm--Passengers Blown Away or Drowned.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, September 13.—The State to day received a telegram from Hon. John Poe, a member of the State Board of Education and residing at Lake Charles, stating that eighty-five lives were lost on the Gulf and Interstate train, which left Beaumont early Saturday morning for Bolivar Point, after having made connection with the Southern Pacific train which left this city Friday night. Mr. Poe was one of the passengers on this train and together with a few others he sought safety in the light house at Bolivar Point and was saved. The train reached Bolivar Point about noon and all preparations were made to run the train on the ferry boat preparatory to crossing the bay, but the wind blew so swiftly that the ferry boat could not make a landing and the conductor of the train, after allowing it to stand on the tracks for a few minutes, started back to Beaumont. The wind increased so rapidly, coming in from the open sea, that soon the water had reached a level with the bottom of the seats within the cars. It was then that some of the passengers sought safety in the nearby light house. Mr. Poe states in his telegram that in spite of all efforts eighty-five passengers were blown away or drowned. The train was entirely wrecked. Doubtless some of the killed were from New Orleans, as the the train made direct connection with the Southern Pacific train which left here Friday night and there were a large number of New Orleans passengers aboard, and it is known that at least some of these were bound for Galveston. Those who were saved had to spend over fifty hours in the dismal lighthouse on almost no rations.

BRYAN IN INDIANA.

Spoke to a Good Crowd at Plymouth on the Issues of the Campaign.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PLYMOUTH, IND., September 13.—Mr. Bryan made his first stop of importance in Indiana at this point. A good crowd was gathered at the railroad station and Mr. Bryan addressed them briefly from the rear platform of the car. At the small town of Hauna he was greeted by quite a number of people, but contented himself with nodding to them.

At Plymouth Mr. Bryan said in part: "We have every reason for the support of the ticket that we had in 1896, and new reasons which have arisen since that time. The Republican party has shown it is not willing to destroy the trusts. The Republican party is attempting to increase the standing army from 25,000 to 100,000. Is there any reason why the public at large should favor such an increase? The Republican party is trying to fasten upon the country militarism and imperialism. The Republican party wants to engraft upon our country a colonial policy. In 1896 they said we could not have a double standard of money; now they say we can have a double standard of government. There is no reason why you should vote the Republican ticket if you believe in the principles of self-government and are willing that the Filipinos shall govern themselves as well as desirous that we shall govern ourselves."

TO AID THE SUFFERERS.

We, the undersigned, do earnestly ask the women of Wilmington to meet at the residence of Mrs. Roger Moore this (Friday) afternoon at 4:30 o'clock sharp.

The object of the meeting is to make immediate plans for sending clothing te the Galveston sufferers.

We propose to do the sewing ourselves. Many, who for different causes cannot sew, we feel sure will contribute material for those to work on who are not able to give it themselves; a question of some giving material, others giving their time.

The work divided among the big-hearted women of Wilmington will fall lightly upon each one.

To this end we ask contributiens of goods from the merchants and all who can give something, so that the work need not be delayed. These can be sent to the residence of Mrs. Roger Moore, 113 Chesnut street, as soon after reading this notice as possible. In nowise does this work conflict with the proposed concert and festival decided on at the meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Manchester Spinners Advised to Shut Down Twelve Days in October.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 13.—The excitement in the cotton market here continues.

The situation has been been intensified by Neill Brothers' unexpectedly bullish report, but the biggest settling day on record passed successfully. The only failure announced was that a small firm, the losses on the recent rise in the price of cotton having fallen on the wealthier houses.

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 13—The general committee of the Master Spinners Federation has issued a circular advising members of the local association to cease work for at least twelve days in October. Answers are requested to be sent before the adjourned meeting of the Federation takes place, September 21. The answers are expected to be practically unanimously in the affirmative.

THE SITUATION AT GALVESTON.

City Beginning Slowly to Recover from the Effects of the Great Storm.

THE DEATH LIST INCREASES.

More Corpses Found—Volunteer Gangs Continue Work of Hurried Burial. Stench is Fearful--City Still in Darkness—Other News.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Sept. 13.—Galveston is beginning slowly to recover from the stunning blow of last week, and though the city appears to-night to be pitilessly desolated, the authorities and the commercial and industrial interests are setting their forces to work and a start has at last been made toward the resumption of business on a moderate scale.

The presence of the troops has had a beneficial effect upon the criminal classes, and the apprehension of a brief but desperate reign of anarchy now no longer exists. The liquor saloons have at least temporarily gone out of business and every strong limbed man who has not his own humble abode to look after is being pressed into service, so that first of all the water service may be resumed, the gutters flushed, and the streets lighted.

More Dead Found.

The further the ruins are dug into the greater becomes the increase in the list of those who perished as their houses tumbled about their heads. On the lower beach yesterday a searching party found a score of corpses within a small area, going to show that the bulwark of debris that lies straight across the island conceals many more bodies than have been accounted for.

Volunteer gangs continue their work of hurried burial of the corpses they find on the shores of Galveston island and the many neighboring points were fatalities attended the storm. It will probably be many days yet, however, before all the floating bodies have found nameless graves.

Along the beach they are constantly being washed up. Whether these are those who were swept out into the Gulf and drowned or are simply the return ashore of some of those cast into the sea to guard against terrible pestilence, there is no means of knowing. In any event the Associated Press correspondent in a trip across the bay yesterday, counted seven bodies tossing in the waves with a score of horses and cattle, the stench from which is unbearable. In parts of the city the smell of decomposed flesh is still apparent. Wherever such instances are found the authorities are freely disinfecting. Only to-day a babe lashed to a mattress was picked up under a residence in the very heart of the city and was burned.

Widespread Wreck and Ruin.

The city still presents the appearance of widespread wreck and ruin. Little has been done to clear the streets of the terrible tangle of wires and the masses of wreckage, mortar, slate, stone and glass that bestrew them. Many of the sidewalks are impassable. Some of them are littered with debris. Others are so thickly covered with slime that walking on them is out of the question. As a general rule substantial frame buildings withstood better the blasts of the gale than those of brick. In other instances, however, small wooden structures, cisterns and whole sides of houses have been plumped down in streets or back yards, squares away from where they originally stood.

Here and there business men have already put men to work to repair the damage done, but in the main the commercial interests seem to be uncertain about following the lead of those who apparently show faith in the rapid rehabilitation of the island city. The appearance of the newspapers to-dav after a suspension of several days is having a good effect and both the News and Tribune are urging prompt succoring of the suffering, and then equal promptness in reconstruction. It is difficult to say yet what the

is to be on the city. Many people have left and some may never return. The experience of others still here was so frightful that not all will remain if they can conveniently find occupation in other cities. The bulk of the population, however, is only temporarily panic stricken and there are hosts of those who helped to make Galveston great who look upon the catastrophe as only a temporary halt in the advancement of the city. What is most bothering business men at present is what attitude the railroads, and especially the Southern Pacific, are to assume with respect to reconstruction. The decision of the transportation lines will do more than anything else to restore confidence. Big ships, new arrivals, rode at anchor to day in front of the city. They had just reached the port and found the docks and pier damage so widespread that no accommodation could be given to them. They found sheds torn away, freight cars overturned and planking ripped off.

Wrecked Steamships.

The steamships reported ashore in early reports are, save two, the Norwegian steamer Gyller and the British steamer Norma, still high and dry. No examination is as yet possible as to the condition of these still on the sand, but the big tug H. C. Wilmott has arrived from New Orleans and her assistance is to be given to saving those vessels which can be got in deep water again. Apparently, however, Galveston has no immediate need for ships. The destruction of the bridges of all railroads entering the city make it well nigh impossible to furnish outgoing cargoes. Those bridges were each about three miles in length, and the work of reconstruction will be a stupenduous undertaking.

Electric Lights and Street Cars.

One of the most serious results of the storm has been the ripping of the electric light and street car plants. The city has been in absolute darkness for several nights and only a few concerns who operate their own illuminating service are enabled to do business. Nearly every residence has gone back to the primitive candle. The absence of street lights drives all who have no imperative business on the streets to their homes at nightfall, but the work of the patrol system is made more difficult thereby and the opportunity for looting greater.

The motormen deserted their cars when the fury of the wind and the rush of water made it no longer possible to operate them. Attempts are being made now to get the cars in shape again.

The great destruction of live stock has eliminated carriages and cabs as a means of transportation, and the need of the trolley promises to be a most pressing one when rebuilding begins.

The Churches.

Among the worst sufferers by the disaster were the churches. Nearly every one of them felt the effects of the storm. Some of them are entire wrecks, absolutely beyond repair.

The work of relief continues energetically. Mayor Jones and his associates are bending every nerve to open a direct line of transportation with Houston, by which he may be enabled promptly to receive the great quantity of provisions which are now on the way to the city.

"I wish to say, however," said Mayor Jones, "we have made such arrangements as will make it possible for us to feed the needy until we can get in our supplies. I think within a day or two our transportation facilities will be sufficient temporarily to meet our needs. Galveston has helped other cities in their distress, despite her size, and we are consoled by the generous response of the country to our appeal."

The relief committee is striving to systematize its work and there is undoubtedly distress here which ought to be relieved promptly. The committee has instructed the local drug stores to provide the poor and needy with medicine at the expense of the relief fund.

NEW HORRORS AT GALVESTON

Bodies Thrown Into the Sea Floating Back to the City—A Cry for Disenfectants.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DALLAS, TEXAS, September 13.—The cry still comes from Galveston for disinfectants. It is the one hope of saving what is left of the population. Telegrams are pouring into Dallas and every other Texas city, asking for lime, carbolic acid, and anything else that will operate to purify the stifling conditions. The supply of disinfectants here is almost exhausted. If the outside world can hasten relief of this kind, it will be an act of charity of the first magnitude.

A new horror is confronting Galveston—that is a second disposition of many of the dead. Bodies thrown into the sea are floating back to the city. They must now be disposed of by burning. Disinfectants become more needful as a consequence of this new feature in the situation.

The troops that have been on duty at Galveston are breaking down from their exertions and the unsanitary condition. Adjutant General Scurry to-day called out the Dallas rough riders of the First Texas cavalry to relieve the exhausted Light Guards. The rough riders, under command of Captain Paget, will at once start for Galveston.

ANTHRACITE COAL MINERS.

The Great Strike Will Be Formally Inaugurated Next Monday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Sept. 13.—In order to place before the public the conditions existing in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania, President John Mitchell and Secretary and Treasurer W. B. Wilson, of the United Mine Workers of America, issued a statement to the public to-day, giving in detail the causes that have led up to the strike.

After the statement had been given out for publication, President Mitchell says: "At this time I do not believe anything will transpire between now and Monday that will prevent the strike. All information coming to my office to day predicates that the struggle is pratically on."

FUSION IN COLORADO

On State and Presidential Tickets--Orman, Democrat, for Governor.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DENVER, COL., Sept. 13.—Fusion of the Democratic, Silver Republican and Populist parties was accomplished at 3:45 o'clock this morning, when the Democratic State convention adjourned, after being in continuous session since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. James B. Orman, of Pueblo county, Democrat, was nominated for Governor.

Fusion was also accomplished on Presidential electors.

ANOTHER GULF STORM.

Strong Gale at Mobile—Barometer Reading 29.69.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MOBILE, ALA., Sept. 13.—A strong gale has been blowing here since morning. The velocity reached thirty-six miles, the lowest barometer reading 29.69. There is some apprehension that the wharves and Front street may be flooded. The weather observer says the indications are that the storm is nearly stationary in the Mobile neighborhood.

BOERS STILL FIGHTING.

Gen. French's Force Heavily Engaged Near Machadodorp.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

The failure of S. Hillis & Co. was announced on the Liverpool Cotton Exchange yesterday. The suspension had no effect on business as the firm is a small one.

All the fortifications except the rapid fire battery at San Jacinto, Texas, are practically destroyed. Every building except the quarantine station has been swept away. Battery O, First Artillery, lost 28 men. The officers and their families were all saved.

Acting Secretary of War Meikeljohn has issued orders placing the transport McPherson at the service of the citizens committee of the Merchants Association of New York for the immediate transportation of provisions donated for the relief of the storm sufferers of Galveston.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH LI HUNG CHANG.

Declared That His Powers Are Sufficient to Protect American Interests.

DOUBT AS TO HIS ABILITY.

It Is for President McKinley to Decide. Germany and Russia Acting in Full Accord—Great Britain's Position—A Dismemberment.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, September 13.—Minister Wu has received a cablegram from Li Hung Chang, answering the hope of the American note of a few days ago that his powers are sufficient to protect American lives and interests in China. Earl Li says he has that power and will see that the protection is given.

This response came in reply to the effort of the State Department to secure the use by Li Hung Chang of any extraordinary powers he might have for the protection of American life and property in China, pending a final settlement. The department asked Li "without further delay to give assurance that the lives and property of Americans will henceforth be respected throughout the Chinese Empire."

The viceroy has given the assurance asked for. His word came in the shape of a cable dispatch to Minister Wu, dated yesterday, at Shanghai. Mr. Wu called at the State Department this morning and presented this answer to Dr. Hill. He, in turn, sent it forward to the President. It will be for the latter to decide whether Li's assurance is sufficient to meet the needs of the case.

Speedy Negotiations.

Li Hung Chang's message removes, perhaps, the last obstacle to the speedy beginning of the peace negotiations; and the only doubt that exists is as to his ability to redeem his pledge to protect American interests and stop the outrages upon the missionaries and native converts. If he can do this and thus manifest the existence of a de-facto government, there is no reason to doubt that the negotiations will be immediately in order. The notice that Russian troops will not evacuate Pekin until some arrangements have been made for the installation of a government to take charge of affairs is directly in line with the object which the State Department has been pursuing in the exchanges with Li Hung Chang, and if this Russian decision is adhered to, it will certainly facilitate the ultimate withdrawal of all the foreign forces, in the opinion of the officials here.

Prince Ching's Statement.

PEKIN, Sept. 10.—Prince Ching, during the course of private interviews with the ministers yesterday, informed them that while he has power to negotiate he cannot act without Li Hung Chang asking him to come to Pekin.

Marquis Tsiang says that nothing can be done until the arrival of the Emperor.

Germany and Russia.

LONDON, September 14, 4 A. M.—No further light is thrown this morning upon Li Hung Chang's intended movements. The Times has an interesting dispatch from Pekin, dated September 4th, which says in part: "Russia has decided to withdraw her legation from Pekin, leaving a pure military command. An official announcement of this is expected to day. The other powers will also presumably withdraw their legations, leaving Pekin under the military control of the allies, during the winter at least.

"At a meeting of the generals the Russian commander announced that Russia would maintain 15,000 troops during the winter. The German commander said that Germany would keep the same number, and the Japanese commander announced that Japan would have 22,000 The British general was not in a position to make an announcement.

Great Britain Humbled.

"There is every indication, however, that Lord Salisbury has decided that our present subordinate position in Pekin must become still humbler. In the best informed quarters the opinion is expressed that Russia and Germany are acting in accord, Russia seeking the definite alienation of all territory north of the Great Wall, and Germany the annexation of Shan-Tung, Kiang-Su and the Yangtse provinces. Russia seeks also to restore the power of the Empress Dowager and the Emperor, in order to be enabled to wield her influence through them over the remaining provinces. The dismemberment of China seems almost inevitable.

"The Empress Dowager has retained Prince Ching's son as a hostage for his father."

The Shanghai correspondent of the Times, wiring Wednesday, confirms the reports of the uneasy feeling there concerning Germany's intentions toward the Yangtse provinces and especially the Kiang Nin forts.

Russia Adheres to Proposal.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 13.—The Russian government adheres firmly to its proposal to evacuate Pekin and continues to cherish the hope that Germany will end by agreeing to it and thus induce Great Britain to follow. It is explained, however, that Russia recognized the impossibility of the allies leaving Pekin unless the Chinese government immediately enters, so that there shall not be an interval without a government. Russia will, therefore, not move before the termination of the negotiations now begun for guaranteeing order in Pekin by the installation of a government immediately after the evacuation.

Great Britain's Reply.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Great Britain's reply to the Russian proposition for the evacuation of Pekin was sent two days ago, and as the Associated Press forecasted, Great Britain declines to evacuate Pekin prior to receiving satisfactory guarantees from the Chinese government for the fulfillment of certain conditions.

CHINESE TROOPS ROUTED BY AMERICAN CAVALRY.

Assassin of the German Minister Captured—A Fight Between Chinese Boxers and Russians.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PEKIN, September 5, via Taku, September 10.—A troop of American cavalry to act as a convoy for cattle, surprised 300 imperialists, quartered at the Temple Shaho. They killed thirty and captured forty rifles. The enemy fled northward.

PEKIN, September 9.—The Japanese have arrested the assassin of Baron Von Ketteler, the late German minister to China. The assassin, who has been handed over to the Germans by the Japanese, has confessed his guilt. He was arrested for trying to sell to a Japanese officer a watch with Baron Von Ketteler's initials. He afterwards admitted the crime, saying that the imperial government ordered the commission of the act.

Colonel Tretiekoff's party yesterday engaged five hundred Boxers, seven miles from Machpo. The Boxers were armed only with swords and spears. The Russian cavalry charged on them, killing many of them with sabres. The charge was made through the corn field, and the Russians succeeded in killing the commander of the enemy's forces. The casualties among the Boxers are estimated at 200. A Russian officer was wounded and two Cossacks were killed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—News telling of the state of the cotton district in Texas continues to be received by brokers in this city. From all later accounts the damage will exceed all original estimates. The storm devastated the very richest part of the country, not only ruining the growing cotton, but damaging the earth, so that it may take years before another crop can be grown on the same land.

During my recent trip to the Expositions I saw the products of nearly 300 of the leading Furniture Manufacturers in the world. In making my selections I considered quality first; price second. From all of whom I bought I secured exclusive sale for this city. This was given me because I have the best class of trade and do the largest business done here, and because, to prevent cheapening their goods by competition, first class manufacturers will allow only ONE dealer in a city of this size to handle their products.
